COMPANY OVERVIEW

Founded in 2000, Packers Plus Energy Services initially offered niche products that focused on providing oil and gas operators with innovative completion solutions for international refinement operations. Over the following two decades, Packers Plus achieved international recognition for producing state-of-the-art systems that supplied project managers in local and international locations with resources guaranteed to work. Today, Packers Plus has evolved into a diversified completions company operating in North America, Latin America and the Middle East.

USE CASE

Packers Plus Energy Services has over 400 employees in 10 different locations around the world. Packers Plus Energy Services primarily uses IRIS to communicate with its employees on emergencies that impact certain offices or the organization as a whole. The IRIS platform allows management to target groups within a single company, one company's entire personnel, multiple companies or their entire user list instantaneously.

"IRIS helps keep our organization safe. Having the ability to communicate instantly allows our organization to feel a lot smaller which is ideal, considering all the areas in which we operate."

INCIDENT SPOTLIGHT

Packers Plus has utilized the IRIS Notification System on a number of occasions when incidents or accidents have taken place. Additionally, the ability to notify specific locations of impending extreme weather conditions, and more recently to communicate COVID 19 Pandemic protocols and information company-wide have made IRIS an invaluable safety and communications tool.
